

As a teacher in Washington State, I know that in order to meet Common Core State Standards all students and schools must have access to reliable high speed broadband. Students need to be able to access online resources and communicate and collaborate within a global world. This access is the key to the success of our students' and our nation's future. Please raise the E-Rate funding level so that all of our schools and students can have this access. Thank you.